

VERIZON AD

DUDE 1

I've been thinking of switching to Verizon. I'm really not getting the service I deserve for how much I pay on my wireless bill.

DUDE 2

Your what?

DUDE 1

My wireless bill. On my wireless plan. For my wireless mobile device.

DUDE 2

Dude, nobody talks like that. It's called a cellphone.

ANNOUNCER

Verizon. We are completely out of touch with our customers.

AUDI AD

ANNOUNCER

(overdramatically)

In 1907, the Brazilian government announced their intention to purchase three dreadnought battleships. Argentina and Chile reacted by purchasing dreadnoughts of their own. This began a South American arms race. On a completely unrelated note, the all new Audi A8.

Audi. Our commercials have nothing to do with our cars.

SUDAFED AD

ANNOUNCER

Is your wallet stuffed up and congested with money? Generic drugs may take weeks to relieve pressure on your wallet, but Sudafed has fast-acting high prices to unclog all that cash instantly! You can't get that kind of fast-acting power when you buy generic!

Sudafed. Because "pseudoephedrine" is such a big word.

LISTERINE AD

ANNOUNCER

Listerine fights plaque, and has the power to rid your mouth of biofilm! Biofilm is a fancy new word we found one day. It basically means plaque.

Listerine. We have a thesaurus.

VISA AD

ANNOUNCER
Visa. We're not MasterCard.

MASTERCARD AD

ANNOUNCER
MasterCard. We're not Visa.

AMERICAN EXPRESS AD

ANNOUNCER
American Express. We're not Visa or MasterCard.

DISCOVER AD

ANNOUNCER
Discover Card. Nobody uses us.